Věc:

Carissimo Felice,

Your FAX of 22/1/91 arrived incomplete: The program of the symposium, the names of the members of Committees, but only the first page of the accompanying letter. Please send the second page by FAX.

Accordingly I can reply only with respect to the first point of your questions:

As "Presidente onorario" we suggest Professor J. Blahoš, President of the Czech Medical Society.

In the Comitato di Presidenza I agree with including my name.

In the Comitato Organizzativo we suggest, in addition to my name, the names of : B. Fixa and J. Kotrlík.

As to the program and the topics we find them very well and attractive. We have to consider the possible reporters for a few more days. Since we have limited possibilities in presenting video-films, the ~~max~~ contribution of the Czech doctors would probably be limited to one lecture to each theme + short contributions in the discussions. I would give you the names and titles after I have received the second page of your letter with other questions.

If the number of Italian doctors is 100 to 120 and the Czech doctors about 100 doctors the usual hall in our medical society may be too small. In addition I wonder if there would be all facilities for videos available. A better solution would be the hall in the hotel FORUM in which the previous Italo-Czech meeting took place with great success. However, I keep reminding you that the hotel and hall may not be available at the time coinciding with the Prague Musical Spring. Please inform me whether you have made appropriate reservations in the hotel and which one. I also shall inquire about the best solution for the translation.

Awaiting you further note

Con molti cordiali saluti

The translation service for two days Italian-Czech and vice versa would cost about 1800.-DM. This should be born by the sponsor. As alternative all speakers could speak in English with exception of short comments during the films which could be translated from Italian by the members of the presidium. Is the sponsor prepared to cover such expenses?
